ALBIN JACQUEMONT JOINS SAUR AS GROUP CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

Consistent with implementation of its strategic roadmap, the Saur Group is delighted to announce the appointment of Albin Jacquemont as Group Chief Financial Officer.

In this capacity, he joins the General Management Committee to contribute to the Group transformation and activation of the Saur Group levers for competitiveness and sustainable growth in France and internationally.

Albin Jacquemont began his career with the Arthur Andersen audit team in 1987. In 1992, he joined Suez where he acquired substantial experience as CFO for its Corporate operations, before taking over responsibility for its Cable Television Division.

In 1998, Albin joined Carrefour to coordinate its transformation plan in France. In 2015, he joined Darty to modernize its Finance function and lead the process of strategic plan implementation. From 2016 onwards, Albin was Group Chief Financial Officer at Altran. He is a graduate of Sciences Po and holds an MBA from INSEAD.

As part of his new responsibilities, Albin will contribute to strengthening the position of the Saur Group as the most innovative, responsible and attractive global force in the water industry as we strive to facilitate the ecological transition in all operating regions.

Patrick Blethon, Chief Executive Officer of the Saur Group: "I am delighted to welcome Albin Jacquemont as a member of the Group Management Committee. The extensive expertise he has acquired throughout his career with leading listed companies is a strength that will help us to achieve our sustainable growth ambitions and further enhance our positive impact as a defender of water."
